September 2024

Commander's Comments

Comrades,

We all should take pride in honoring the legacy of those few and brave who planned and started the Veterans of Foreign Wars in 1899. As we celebrate the VFW 125th birthday on September 29th, let all of us remember the fight and hard work they had to go through to make the VFW the organization it is today. We must think about the legacy of the VFW. There is a wonderful article in the September 2024 magazine. If you have a copy, please read it. It tells the story of the VFW from the beginning to now and into the future. We have a fantastic team to lead our Post on any issues concerning the Post, membership and the community we serve. We must continue to progress in our daily business operations for the good of our existence. This can only be done through the membership. Use your voice and vote. However, if you as a member don't attend the monthly membership meeting your voice and vote means nothing. You must attend the meeting to use your voice and vote. Each one of us have a mission to fulfil. Remember the making of our Post begins with dedicated members.

Question of the month:

How many state of Texas VFW commanders went on to become national VFW commanders in chief? Can you name them?

See you around the Post and enjoy the month of September.

Rodell Whitmore

Senior Vice-Commander

Fellow Comrades,

I am writing this with a saddened heart. Our Post is requiring a lot of changes to keep the doors open. Most can see that our attendance is down, and our cost of operations is continually increasing. Much work is needed to maintain the way of life that we have been accustomed to at the Post. We need more people (members) to join and be a part of our program. All your Officers, House committee need help with answers, we know the problems, but need SOLUTIONS. We will discuss all month about the Post's future and present our recommendations to the members at the September meeting. If you are one that only comes on voting day, this is your day to come and decide on how we as a Post proceed. We need all veterans' support.
